Injured soldier returns

Homecoming drains whole family savings

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER

Staff Writer Michael Welch, 20, of Bay St. Louis, is happy to be home and happier to be alive. Welch was one of 11 soldiers injured in the February 12 mid-air collision of two Blackhawk helicopters during an Army training exercise in Hawaii. Six other soldiers died in the crash.

Welch and his family arrived home on

Diane Baldwin, Welch's mother, said that the trip to bring Michael home was a night-

"Things in Hawaii are very expensive," Baldwin said. "And we had to pay for everything ourselves. The army didn't even have a place for us to stay. The trip cost us everything we had, everything, and now we may be evicted from our home, too."

The army did pay for Michael's trip home - coach class - instead of the first class ticket he was supposed to have.

Hancock ranks 3rd in growth

BY ED LEPOMA Staff Writer

The latest figures from the recent U.S. Census shows Hancock County as the third fastest growing county in the state and leading the other two coastal counties.

Total population in the three coastal counties grew by 17 percent to 364,000 over the last 10 years, making it the fastest growing region in the state.

The figure show the coast gained more residents than other populous part of Mississippi, including Tunica, where there is also gambling, and Hinds County, where the showed a lot of heart Thursday, raising a little more than $5,000 for the American Heart Association.

The kids ran, danced and jumped rope for hours Thursday during "Jump Rope for Heart," an event planned to raise both awareness and money for the heart association's cause.

In the meantime, parents, teachers and other staff at the school had their hands full keeping the students stocked with refreshments and making sure the event was conducted in a safe, responsible manner.

The final fundraising tally wasn't vet available Friday, but a spokeswoman for the school said early estimates were that the event had raised more than $5,000 - approaching the goal of $6,000.

Favre pays

ECHO STAFF REPORT Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre has reimbursed the state auditor's office $323 for expenses improperly charged to the city, including about $250 for the use of a city vehicle to drive Councilman Jimmy Rutherford to Houston for cancer treatment in October 1997.

"In addition to the Houston trip," Favre said Friday, "the auditor's office found about $75 in additional unauthorized expenditures.

The reimbursement followed a notice from the auditor's office that it had concluded an investigation spurred by an anonymous complaint accusing Favre of using city credit cards for personal expenditures and charging personal transportation and phone calls to the city over the past five years.

The auditor's office also charged interest of $106 and investigative costs of $133, bringing Favres fees for reimbursement to $563, payable to 'state Auditor Phil Bryant's

Rutherford served on the Bay St. Louis City Council from January 1989 until his death in September 1999. "Jimmy Rutherford was a friend, a public servant and an elected city official," Favre said Friday. "He was well liked and respected, and I didn't think twice about taking him to Houston when he needed to go. The auditor said I was wrong in charging the expense to the city, and I've made full restitution."

Cuevas' Quotes by Ellis C. Cuevas Publisher Emeritus

If you have not already made plans to attend the Majesty of Spain Exhibit, I think you want to do so.

On Wednesday, some 30 of us from the Hancock County Retired Senior Volunteers took a bus trip to Jackson to view the exhibit.

Words just cannot express the beauty of the exhibit. And, most importantly, Mississippi is the only state in the nation with an exhibit which includes many of Spain's most precious art collection.

There are just so many things to rave about in the exhibit. Since we live on the Coast, the largest object in the exhibit, the 55foot royal gondola, made of exquisitely carved and gilded wood and dating from the second half of the 17th century, really caught my eye. The lavishly decorated royal carriage of King Fernando VII is very unique, too.

A person could spend an hour alone in the Porcelain Room. The beauty is just too hard to describe.

All I could hear on our way home from Jackson was how beautiful the exhibit really is and how everyone should make an effort to visit it at the Mississippi Arts Pavilion in Jackson.

The exhibit will be on display until September 3, and I am sure there will be visitors from every state and many countries making the visit to our capital city. Individual ticket price is $15 for adults, college and university students with ID $10, seniors age 60 plus $14, and children and youths, infants-18 years $5. There are reduced rates for groups of Advance tickets are recommended. Tickets are available at TicketMaster toll-free at 1-877-709-2639. Group ticket sales only:

I hope you will be able to visit the exhibit.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce March Business After Hours will be sponsored by Coast Electric from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, March 22.

Coast Electric's Conference Room on Main Street, behind the Shell Station, is the location for the After Hours.

There will be some good snacks and some door prizes, so bring along a couple business cards. The After Hours are open to chamber members and guests. I hope to see you Thursday evening.

Over the years it would disturb me to see a very healthy person park in a handicapped space, and this frequently happens in our

It is good to hear that Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil announced at last week's Bay Council meeting about his department issuing citations when they spot unauthorized motorists parking in spaces designated exclusively for the handicapped.

Many times handicapped folks have to walk a long way to shop, because some healthy person has parked in a reserved area. We must all remember that one day we may be handicapped, and as the saying goes, 'the shoe will be on the other foot.' Keep up the good work, Chief McNeil.

Hancock County Tax Assessor/Collector Jimmie Ladner asked if I would remind folks that March 30 is the deadline to file for Homestead Exemptions.

This is very important for new homeowners who were living in their home on January 1, 2001. Of course, your home in Hancock County has to be your permanent residence.

You must re-file your homestead exemption application if A) You become 65 years of age. B) You become 100% disabled. C) You acquired a new residence. D) You acquired additional property that adjoins your homestead. E) Your marital status changed (divorced, widowed, separated, etc.).

Having homestead exemption does make a big difference in the amount of property taxes a homeowner pays each year.

If you have any questions, give the Tax Assessor's Office a call at 467-4425 or 888-409-6239.

The issue came to a critical juncture on Thursday because March 13 is the state deadline to approve textbook expenditures.

"We can't satisfy all of the teachers at the expense of the children," Ladner told board members during heated discussion. "It doesn't matter to me if (students have nothing but a) notebook. I rely on the teachers. We have teachers in this district who can teach without a textbook.

"We can spend a lot of money on textbooks because they're pretty or they've got a lot of pictures or they're organized a certain way. ... The key is getting (the teachers) better training."

Ladner said in a letter handed to the board members before Thursday's meeting that "The costs to replace our current mathematics textbook inventory is estimated in excess of $250,000 (which he later amended to around $200,000).

"Does Saxon Math Series meet our curriculum needs and would a change in textbooks make a tremendous difference in our students' academic achievement? Our curriculum specialists (Frances Weiler and Kim Saucier) have done an outstanding job compiling these statistics and conducting surveys throughout the district in search of the answers. Evidence is lacking to substantiate an increase in student achievement" by replacing Saxon. But Easter and Peggy Ladner, both of whom expressed objections to the Saxon series at their very first meeting as board members in January, said they felt the Saxon program was hurting both employee morale and student understanding. Both women had worked inside the school system before joining the board, and said they had been Continued from Page 1A hearing teachers' complaints about the curriculum for years. Peggy Ladner said she had spent several months investigating other school districts that had used the program, and found that many of those districts had found it lacking.

"So many school districts had it and dropped it and never intend to go back to it," she said.

"If I had a choice between Saxon or no textbooks at all," a teacher in the audience Thursday told board members, "my first choice would be no textbooks."

Ultimately, the board approved the superintendent's alternate recommendation to purchase the Glemco textbook series for grades 6-12 and the Silver-Burdette series for grades k-5.

Peggy Ladner said Friday that there is now some doubt that the Saxon series actually had as much impact on the district's dramatic test score improvement, since newlyreleased census figures and independent studies indicate that roughly two-thirds of the students included in the scoring had moved into the districts from other areas within the past few years and had not, in fact, had not been using the Saxon textbooks before coming to Hancock County.

Also on Thursday, the board effectively wiped out a mandatory school uniform policy for the 2001-2002 school year.

Ladner had recommended that the district extend the current school year's pilot uniform policy to become a mandatory policy for grades k-11 next year. However, when the recommendation died Thursday night when no board members seconded Peggy Ladner's motion to approve it.

The issue can be brought up at the next meeting, she said.

THE PICTURESQUE ENTRANCE TO DIAMONDHEAD – not part of the tour, but a welcoming sight for our "pilgrims." Stop by the Pilgrimage headquarters at Diamondhead Community Center at 5300 Diamondhead Circle first Wednesday to enjoy our Annual Standard Flower Show, pick up a map of the tour and have refreshments. Before leaving, notice the atrium landscaping that was designed by the Diamondhead Garden Club and is maintained by the Property Owners Association.

GARDENS OF MAX AND BOOTS DEATON, 6524 IOLANI COURT.
Less than 18 months ago, this back yard was an unruly, vine-matted lot where walking was impossible. It is truly a pleasure now to stroll through the crushed limestone paths, which naturally separate the area into garden rooms. Care was taken to preserve the native plants. A diverse selection of shrubs was added to enhance the natural beauty of the surroundings. Most of the plantings are shade lowing and provide warying shades of green while ferns, azaleas and camellias add color to the tropical ambiance. Butterfiles and hummingbirds also enjoy the numerous plants provided for their suste-

HOME AND GARDENS OF EDDIE AND JOAN MOORE, 9420 MAKIKI DRIVE. You will find a bit of the tropics at the Moores' tangerine-colored stucco home. Their many island travels have influenced the landscape design, which includes paims of all sizes and shapes. On entering the backyard, one is surprised to find a white-sand beach and a Tiki-style cabana. Extensive walkways wind throughout the wooded areas to a lower deck at the rear of the property. The interior features an open floor plan with large windows across the back for views of the lush tropical garden areas.

GARDENS OF JOHN AND BRENDA WHITE, 7607 FAIRWAY DRIVE. Sabal palms, a butterfly garden and a copper fountain highlight the imposing front yard. After moving to Diamondhead four years ago, the Whites enhanced their contemporary home by adding several Sabal palms. The surrounding flowerbeds complement this golf course view home.

GARDENS OF BOB AND MARGE DIEBALL, 7920 MAUI PLACE. This cypress-sided home on the golf course yields surprises in the back garden. A combination of water gardens, shade gardens, and lush lawn provides a beautiful place to relax even on those hot summer days. The subtle music from the falling water adds pleasing background sounds for the porch and patio areas. The back garden forms a lovely habitat for both man and wildlife.

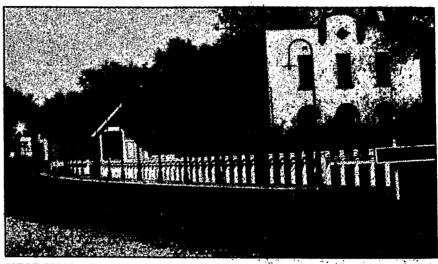

HOME OF DR. AND MRS. FRED LOWE, 7816 MAUI CIRCLE. This lovely Florida-style home stands on three lots providing space for a vegetable garden, a greenhouse and a natural setting for wildlife. Inside the home, 10 archways, eyebrow windows and skylights maximize the natural light, which accents the light hues featured throughout the home. The pineapple fountain in the front garden is a symbol of hospitality to welcome visitors.

HOME OF KEN AND SUZANNE FRANK, 79334 DIAMONDHEAD DRIVE EAST. Ken and Suzanne Frank designed their retirement home to reflect their New Orleans heritage. It incorporates designs from their previous homes. Visitors are welcomed to the home by a New Orleans-style gated courtyard complete with fish pond and lush tropical plantings. The interior features 12-foot ceilings, original artwork by Suzanne, a beveled transom, faux-painted walls, and other unique wall treatments. The "bird room," with its colorful, hand-painted murals, overlooks the gazebo and trellis-covered fountain in the rear garden.

HEADQUARTERS: HISTORIC BAY ST. LOUIS DEPOT, 1928 Depot Way. Make this your first stop for light refreshments, maps and brochures of today's tour. Designated as a Mississippi Landmark, the Depot will host a transportation display. Enjoy Stennis' NASA exhibit of space ships as well. Hours: 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Note: Open hours vary by site.

CELESTINE AND VERONICA LABAT, 307 Easterbrook, Bay St. Louis. Celestine, born in 1898, and her sister Veronica are living treasures of Bay St. Louis. Their father, Papa Joe, built St. Rose de Lima and many other churches and houses in the area. He added onto their Colonial revival home in 1892 doubling its size. Antiques dating from the 1800's furnish this home which is on the National Register of Historic Places. Don't miss the four-poster bed, family portraits and the bronze bust of another sister done by Creole artist Richmond Barthe. Hours: 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

HOME OF ELIZABETH VEGLIA AND BILLY RAY SANDERS, 209 N. Second Street, Bay St. Louis. This home built c. 1915 features mosaic pieces by Elizabeth and her mother Cecile as well as many of their artist friends. Elizabeth designed the kitchen tile with the period of the house in mind and in the master bath she has incorporated fine-china shards into a pattern around the sink. Outside, look behind her artist's studio and find a secret garden with a mosaic fountain. Hours: 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

HOME OF WARREN AND VICKI STOVALL, 107 Ballentine, Bay St. Louis. In 1945 a front-gabled frame house was attached to an earlier cottage with an off-center gable. Subsequently a second floor, guest house, garage, swimming pool and cabana have quadrupled its size. Chinese red walls in the living room set off heart pine floors, a New Orleans plantation butler's pantry and an old chopping block centering the kitchen are just a few of the features to see. Outside, Spanish moss drapes four registered live oaks-the Talbot Oaks. A wrought iron gate flanked by antique swans opens onto the swimming pool and cabana. Hours: 12:00 p.m. - 2:00 p.m.

NOTICE OF THE AVAILABILITY OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received an application for financial assistance from Hancock County Water and Sewer District. As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Rural Utilities Service has prepared an Environmental Assessment that evaluated the potential environmental effects and consequences of the proposed project. This notice announces the availability of the Environmental Assessment for public review and comment.

The proposed Phase II water project consists of installing approximately 144,000 linear feet of distribution lines to serve an additional 1,000 area residents. Phase II Water is the second phase of a proposed three phase project to supply potable water to the District's service area which is located north of U. S. Highway 90 and along the east and west sides of Highway 603 south of the Jourdan River.

An alternative to the proposed project would be to take "No Action." However to take no action would mean that the homeowners in the area would have to rely on a poor quality of water which could cause health hazards to residents in the area.

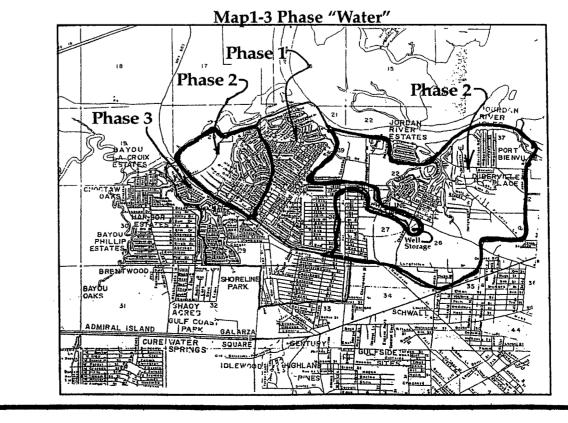

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Provided a letter dated November 29, 2000 listing eleven federally endangered species which may be found in the proposed project area. Mitigation: Should any of the eleven mentioned endangered species be encountered in the area during construction, all work will cease and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be contacted for guidance.

The Majority of the proposed project area is located within flood plain as indicated by the FEMA Flood Plain Insurance map. However, the water system will be primarily underground and thus will not be affected by the flood plain area. Any above ground facilities will be installed at or above the Minimum flood level as determined by FEMA. The district must adopt an ordinance prohibiting service to new structures, unless such construction was authorized by the proper regulatory agency(s).

The proposed construction area contains a large area of wetlands. Upon recommendation by the Corps of Engineers, a wetland consultant was contacted to perform a wetland survey. Based on his findings no portions of the considered property are subject to Section 404 of the clean Water Act of 1977.

Copies of the Environmental Assessment are available for review at the Rural Development office located at 132 Mayfair Road, Suite C, Hattiesburg, Mississippi. For further information contact Robert W. Windham, Rural Development Specialist, at 601-261-3293.

Any person interested in commenting on this proposed project should submit comments to the address above by April 3, 2001. A general location map of the proposal is shown

HOME AND COTTAGE OF THE GREEN FAMILY, 418 and 420 South Beach Blvd. Bay St. Louis. This house of the future featuring electricity at the New Orleans World Fair of 1884, was dismantled in 1906 and floated on a barge to Bay St. Louis where it was purchased by John A. and Mary Jane Green, The front parlor features triple crown molding and windows of three styles and has been furnished with family pieces. An octagonal-shaped dining room resonates the polygonal front of the house. The second story has six bedrooms and baths, a sitting room and upstairs porch overlooking the Bay. The cottage contains antiques from the Green family home including an antique card table, lion paw dining table. cedar chest and four-poster twin beds. Hours: 1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

HOME AND GARDENS OF PHARES AND ELINOR FRANTZ, 515 Nicholson, Waveland, This engaging continuous mile on north to an tage built c. 1922 has a glorious garden. From the living room view azaleas, sasanquas, camellias, huge magnolias, oaks, cypresses and so much more. Phares and Elinor planted trees to honor the births of their grandchildren. In the dining room notice the walnut secretary and enjoy the table set with antique linens, china and crystal. Ask a hostess to show you the photo of Elinor's great-great grandfather from Paris, France-Leon Fremaux. In the wide center hall take delight in the old carriage lamp, chiming clock, rosewood armoire, and the brass chandelier. Study the old maps and paintings that hang in Phares' office. Hours: 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

HOME OF ED AND NORA WIKOFF. 500 Nicholson. Waveland. This house was one of four created by the division of the old Uhlman Woolen Mill after it closed in the late 1800's. Now, Ed and Nora, an architect and interior designer, have created an inviting place to raise their four children. Look for the grandfather clock from Ed's family and the armoire from Nora's great-grandmother. See the 50's pottery, Mission style rocker, bookcase in the family room and the workman's bed in the master bedroom.

AFTERNOON HEADQUARTERS: HANCOCK COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY AT THE KATE LOBRANO HOUSE, 108 Cue Street. Stop for more refreshments, maps and brochures. Enjoy the turnof-the-century house donated by Kate Lobrano's heirs. Then browse through the Charles Gray History Center's small library and museum in the back of the building. ANNUITY OWNERS READ THIS!!

Many annuity owners lose 70% of the value of their annuity when it pays off. Will this happen to you?

It's true, Annuities and IRAs can be double-taxed assets (subject to income taxes PLUS estate taxes). After estaté taxes and income taxes, there can be as little as 30% of the value remaining. You can learn how to avoid the loss in the little ocucational booklet "Annuity Owner Mistakes." The booklet is free and shows how to avoid double taxation and get more benefits from your existing annuity value.

Hancock's Local Newspaper since 1892

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing. Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office a t 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community.

Our primary problem is, we're

Unconditional ove.

To love someone unconditionally means that one's love is absolute and is without limits. Human emotions are such that we usually distance ourselves from those with unpleasant attitudes or behaviors, so at times loving someone regardless of their actions or feelings toward us is extremely difficult. An example of this could be a married couple - they may be so much in love on their wedding day, but later get a divorce because they no longer care for each other. Unconditional love is a blessing from our Heavenly Father and involves forgiveness, understanding, wisdom, and praying for our loved ones. A parent's love for their children, or a child's love for their parents can be unconditional, and God's love for His chosen people is also unconditional. The Bible tells us that there is nothing in all creation that will ever be able to separate us from the love of God, which is ours through Christ Jesus our Lord.

Live a life of love, just as Christ loved us and gave Himself up for us as a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God.

Need auto repairs? Here's advice

Some planning, attention to detail, and open, two-way communication between customer and the repair facility are the building blocks of satisfactory automotive repair and service, say the experts at the nonprofit National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE).

ASE offers the following advice to consumers as they purchase automotive repair vehicle; follow the manufacschedule.

• Start shopping for a repair facility before you need one; you can make better decisions when you are not rushed or in a panic.

• Ask friends for their recommendations. Even in this high-tech era, old-fashioned word-of-mouth reputation works well.

• Check with your local • Read the owner's manual consumer organization about to become familiar with your the reputation of the shop.

• If possible, arrange for turer's suggested service transportation so you won't select a shop based solely on location.

> Look for a neat, wellorganized facility, with vehicles in the parking lot equal in value to your own and modern equipment in the service bays.

 Professionally run establishments have a courteous, helpful staff. The service writer should be willing to listen to you and to answer your questions. • Policies (labor rates, fees

Road Trip Preparation

Road trips, vacations scenic drives through the countryside — people flock to their cars when warm weather arrives to take advantage of clear skies and cool breezes. The lure of the open road is quite addictive, and the worries of the day can melt away with the purr of an engine and a far-off destination in mind.

However, summer jaunts in the car can taken an unexpected turn if your vehicle is not properly prepared for the trip ahead. Nothing can ruin a vacation faster than spending most of it pulled over on the side of the road, or enjoying the view from the front seat of a tow truck.

Following are a few tips to make sure your vehicle is in top shape before setting out on the road.

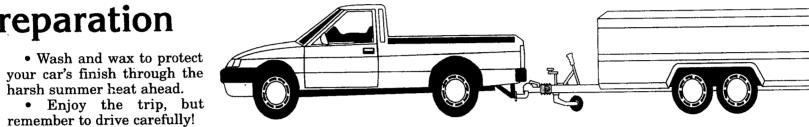

What You Can Do

- · Check the brake lights, turn signals and dashboard lights.
- Test the horn.
- Make sure you have enough coolant in your system. If it gets too low your car may overheat.
- Check shocks and struts by pushing down on the hood as hard as you can. If the car bounces like a yo-yo, you may have trouble.
- Take a penny and insert it Lincoln-head first in your tire tread at the most worn part of the tire. If you can see the top of Lincoln's head, you,
- may need new tires. • Check the trunk for moisture or rust, which indicates a
- water leak. Look under the car for signs of mud buildup and inspect the garage floor for signs of leaks.
- Change oil and get an overall tuneup.
- Inspect and, if needed, fill washer fluid, radiator fluid, transmission fluid, brake fluid, differential fluid, and power-steering fluid.
- Change air and oil filters, and wiper blades if necessary. · Check the battery and
- tire pressure. Check condition of hoses and belts. Blowing a hose or breaking a belt is bad any-
- Check battery terminals. If you see signs of corrosion (whitish powder), have them

Coolant Loss

According to engineers at The Gates Rubber Company, a low coolant level leads to overheating because there isn't enough fluid in the system to absorb the engine's heat. The air in the system that is absorbing these high temperatures is a poor heat conductor and won't do an effective job of transferring the heat to the radiator.

Cars, pickups and SUV's have white-colored coolant markings on the tank indicat- coolant level is low after ing where coolant levels repeated fillings, you probably should be when the car is runhave a leak in the system.

The most common cause of roadside breakdowns is a failed cooling system, according to the nation's motor club companies. Before the summer driving season begins, car experts recommend that the liquid coolant and all engine hoses be inspected to ensure adequate service

Coolant Hose Leaks

Hoses are the most likely source of leaks because they are structurally the weakest components of the cooling system. Hoses must be flexible to absorb vibration, so they are made of rubber compounds. Rubber, unfortunately, is not as durable as metal.

According to Gates, intense engine heat can harden and crack even the best rubber; oil can soften and swell it; the simple passage of time can break down a hose's internal bonding; and electrochemical degradation can crack the

Replace Old Hoses

Gates recommends a safe service life of four years for all coolant carrying hoses, especially the upper radiator and bypass hoses.

After four years, Gates explains, the incidence of hose failure increases sharply to the point where motorists should consider having the hoses replaced to avoid highway problems. In many instances, hose leaks occur at Four years of field tests on, faulty connections to the inless and outlet pipes. Make certain the hose clamps are secure When replacing a hose, it's also a good idea to replace the clamps. Traditional wormdrive clamps or the new, thermoplastic heat-shrink clamps work best.

While you are having the hoses replaced and the cooling system serviced this spring, ask your technician to check for other coolant leak paths. Fluid-loss problems may also be attributed to leaks at the water pump, radiator assembly, radiator cap, or engine drain plugs.

driv tion Even with hands at ten and two, mirrors perfectly adjusted and the latest defensive driving seminar under your belt, driving is becoming more difficult on the country's roadways. In part, the problem has to do with distracted drivers who are doing everything behind the wheel — from applying makeup to eating lunch to talking on cell phones — except paying attention to the road.

Have you ever tried to concentrate on two activities at the same time, like watching television while reading the newspaper? It's not easy. Though you may think that you can accomplish it successfully, you can't give both the attention they deserve. The same concept applies to a person who is driving a car while talking on a cell phone.

while talking on a cell phone.

Though the two acts may seem simple to accomplish simultaneously, it is easy to get engrossed in the phone call and lose track of the environment around you. The result could be a missed exit, a swerve in the lane or even an accident. Dialing a cell phone while driving is also very risky because it requires that you take your hands off of the wheel and your eyes from the road.

Recently, several states have banned the use of cell phones while operating a vehicle. However, if this practice is still legal in your area, here are a few tips for safe cell-phone chatting while traveling, courtesy of the Cellular Telecommunications Industry Association.

- Become familiar with your phone's features and operations.
- Use an earpiece, headset or phone cradle to keep hands free.
- Use speed dial for frequently called numbers.
- When dialing, check the road between numbers. If possible, place calls when you are not moving.
- Tell callers you are driving. If you are in heavy traffic or adverse weather, tell them you'll call back later.
- Never take notes while driving.
- Avoid stressful or emotional conversations.

Give new life to an old car-a new engine

Getting ready to trade that formance as when it was origold car you love? There's inally manufactured, with all another option many people the latest improvements, betdon't consider: a remanufactured engine to give it new

The fact is that cars are built much better than they were a decade or two ago. They don't rust out and their parts and accessories last longer. A fresh engine can give your car 50,000 to 100,000 extra miles.

Remanufactured Engine Basics

Just what is a remanufac-

tured engine? "A quality remanufactured engine isn't just an old engine that's taken apart and as little as ten percent of the cleaned," explains Vincent cost of a new car. Mancini, CEO of Recon Remanufactured engines are Automotive Remanufacturers, Inc. in repair shops will sell and Philadelphia, one of the nation's largest remanufacturers. A Sound Option

A professionally remanufactured engine can cost $2,000 to $4,000 installed, depending on the number of cylinders and whether it is domestic or an import. That's easy to buy, too: Most auto install quality remanufactured engines and even warrant them.

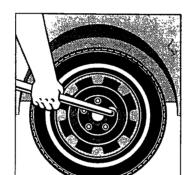

"More people should look at remanufactured engines," says Mancini. "The average car in the United States today is more than seven years old; the average truck than more Remanufactured engines can extend a car's life for years."

Aggressive driving is defined as "driving under the influence of impaired emotions," according to University of Hawaii psychologists Leon James, Ph.D, and Diane Nahl, Ph.D in "Road Rage and Aggressive Driving: Steering Clear of Highway Warfare" (Prometheus Books). James and Nahl identify three categories of impaired emotions:

1. Impatience and inattentiveness: These are the little things that many people do each day without even realizing they're showcasing aggressive behavior. Driving through red lights, speeding up to amber signals, cutting corners, refusing to yield, making rolling stops and weaving are all indicators of this state.

2. Power struggle: Involves more aggressive-type behaviors like blocking the passing lane, threatening or insulting other drivers with gestures or yelling, tailgating to punish, or braking suddenly to retaliate. 3. Recklessness and road rage: The final category involves the most reckless and dangerous driving behav-

Traveling on the country's shooting and assaulting with the car.

While all drivers are human and thus subject to the same emotions, no one has to give in to road rage.

Here are a few ways to curb aggression on the road courtesy of www.allsands.com:

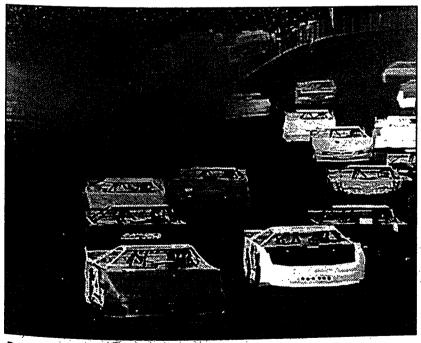

• Let bygones be bygones. If someone is changing lanes and cuts you off, that's an indication that the person may be prone to more aggressive driving behavior. Your best bet is to let the person have plenty of room. Use extra caution when shifting lanes by properly using your turning signals.

 Back off. If you are driving slowly in the left-hand lane, be polite and move over into the right-hand lane in order for the person behind you to pass.

Conversely, if stuck behind someone driving slower than you are, relax, slow down, and wait for an opportunity to Keep your hands to yourself. If you want to avoid road rage, don't use obscene gestures, shake your fist or point angrily at "offending drivers" on the road. However, this doesn't mean you should feel free to shout at, criticize or insult other drivers instead. Any or all of the above can result in an angry response from the other driver.

• The long arm of the law. Another thing to consider is the legal ramifications of road rage. Many state and local officials actually patrol the ior and road rage: driving roads on the lookout for drunk, brandishing a gun or aggressive drivers.

Replace resonating belt drive tensioner

There are more than 100 million vehicles using an automatic tensioner on the accessory belt drive system of the modern car engine, estimate engineers at The Gates Rubber Company.

The tensioner is a springloaded device that exerts a constant pressure on the serpentine engine belt. Critical accessories like the generator/alternator, power-steering pump and air conditioner are driven off of this belt. The automatic tensioner reduces maintenance because it eliminates the need to periodically retighten the belts and it improves belt life because it assures that the drive has the Gates says car owners should listen for symptoms that may indicate impending failure of the tensioner, its pulleys or the serpentine belt. A high-pitched whine, squeal or chirping sound coming from the engine compartment is cause for immediate inspection of the drive system.

Auto repair shops that carry the right cooling system products can install a new tensioner that is equivalent to the original equipment part in fit and performance. If the belt tensioner has not been serviced since you bought the car, have it inspected this spring before the summer driving season.

Important steps to take after an auto accident

Hollywood stunt drivers, no one looks forward to getting into an automobile accident. Outside of the risks to life and limb, the speed and sudden nature of an accident can leave those involved feeling frightened and disoriented. Following are some some tips that can save you time and grief with the insurance claims handling process, courtesy of the Automotive Service Association ® (ASA).

• If you've been injured in an accident, the first thing you should do is remain where you are and contact the authorities for help, if you place, then stop and identify report for your records.

With the exception of yourself to the other driver. (Some state or local statutes sions or arguments at the may require the vehicles to be left as is.) If the vehicle cannot be moved, turn on the hazard

> Contact the police at once, tell them who you are, where you are and if anyone has been hurt.

 Exchange information with the other driver(s) including driver's license numbers. Be sure to get the person's name, address, telephone numbers and the name of his or her insurance carrier. Also list any passengers and badge numbers of any police graphs if a camera is avail-• If you're feeling fine, officers at the scene. Be sure able. move your vehicle to a safe to ask for a copy of the police

 Avoid extensive discusscene about who is responsible for the damage. If the other person admits responsibility, offers a money settlement and you accept, any future claim against the driver may be compromised. You or the others may later find damage or physical injuries that were not apparent at

The future of mass transportation - electric cars?

To some people, the car is a tery-powered, have two seats, in several metropolitan areas status symbol. Others view it freeway capability and fewer across the country including strictly as a mode of transportation. However, most would agree that they can be very expensive. Wouldn't it be great to find a vehicle that was as affordable as mass transit, while offering the convenience of a private car? The station car concept offers just that. Designed as an inexpensive, environmentally-friendly extension of mass transit, the station car runs on electricity and can be driven to and from bus and train stations by mass transit commuters. In the future, station cars are slated to be come a "mobility system" used throughout urban communities for just about any short trip. A typical model will look something like the prototypes shown above at the Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) Ashby District in Berkeley, Ca. A Miracle Weight Loss Product The all-natural ingredients in these new apple cider vinegar capsules can also play an important role in stopping the development of new fat cells. They actually reverse the weight gaining process by causing existing fat cells to open up and drain off ugly body fat. The drained fat is then transported to the muscles where it can be burned off. This makes it possible to virtually eliminate fat deposits on the stomach, butt and thighs in a very brief period of time.

Frequently Asked

Questions: How Do the Apple Cider Vinegar Capsules Work?

The capsules work like an "anti-fat police force". The ingredients contained in the apple cider vinegar capsules transmit orders to the fat cells to drain and send fat to the muscles through the bloodthen be eliminated by the muscles as they burn calories. Do Apple Cider Vinegar Capsules Pose A Health Hazard?

Absolutely not. In fact, it's quite the opposite. The natural ingredients in the capsules do not solve your fat problems chemically. They solve it biologically. And there are no side effects. You can even eat as much as you like and still lose weight! When properly distributed, an intake of 4,000 calories a day can actually help you to lose weight instead of gain it. Because the capsules gently eliminate the toxins and excess weight, each day you'll feel better, more energized and lose weight.

How Many Apple Cider Vinegar Capsules Should I Take?

If you wish to lose weight quickly, we suggest taking one capsule before each meal.
